The Celebration of Mass during the Current Situation of the Swine Flu

Now that the traditional flu season is here and with the added concerns of the H1N1 (Swine Flu) virus this year, the Archdiocesan Emergency Preparedness Committee is monitoring the local situation. Should the situation become more acute in the Chicagoland area, guidelines will be issued to regard to the celebration of the Liturgy as well as other areas of parish life.

It is important to practice hygiene and to remember good common sense. All of us would do well to remember that frequent cleansing of the hands, either with soap and water or with an alcohol based anti-bacterial solution combats the spread or contraction of the flu. This need is especially important for those who minister Holy Communion during the celebration of the Eucharist. Ordinary and Extraordinary Ministers should make an effort to cleanse their hands, discreetly, before and after distributing Holy Communion. An anti-bacterial solution makes this process very easy to do.

Those with flu or cold symptoms should especially act responsibly. Refraining from taking Holy Communion from the Chalice, sharing the sign of peace with a simple nod of the head and the verbal exchange of Christ's peace instead of shaking hands, and avoiding close contact with others will go a long way in helping prevent others from catching the same illness. Others should not interpret this as an affront, but simply that the person who chooses not to extend a hand is taking precautions.

All Catholics should exercise prudence while participating in the celebration of the Eucharist. If one is suffering from the flu, he or she should stay home. Remember that the Mass is televised for those who are homebound every Sunday on WCIU Channel 26 at 7:30AM.

The Bishops of the United States have posted 10 questions and answers regarding the Swine Flu and Liturgy on their website. You can view this resource by going to the USCCB Website: www.usccb.org/liturgy/swineflu.shtml.

The Archdiocesan Emergency Preparedness Committee will continue to monitor the situation and will modify or add to these guidelines as needed. Local information and updates can be found on the Archdiocesan webpage, www.archchicago.org/h1n1.

Mission Statement of St. Florian School

Our mission is to provide each student with a Catholic education in all areas. The faculty and school families join the parish staff and fellow parishioners to form a living Catholic faith community. Our school population is multicultural and fosters sensitivity to the needs of all. We promote the students' burning desire for learning. Through education, service, support, formation and challenge, the students are called to realize their potential spiritually, socially, and intellectually. For one hundred years our school has been committed to carry out the Gospel values of Jesus Christ on a daily basis.

Come Home to the Catholic Church

Whether we like to admit or not, it's all too easy to get lost in today's hectic lifestyles. Many people suddenly realize that their lives have lost a sense of meaning or purpose. Questions like "What is my life all about?" or "Why do I do what I do?" come up in one's heart and soul. When our culture contributes to the widespread confusion about morality, truth, and the good, it is the Catholic Church that offers a beacon of light. A light that gives meaning not only to our life here on earth, but also for life eternal.

If you know of someone who questions and yearns of the meaning of life, urge them to join you on Sunday, the Lord's day, at St. Florian. The prayers, hymns and readings for the next several weeks speak of these themes very well. Let them hear this and pray for this in the presence of the Lord and His Church.

— Fr. Jim

Next week: Reason #9 -
Because childhood memories surface.

A series of TV commercials will be aired to invite Catholics to return to the practice of the faith starting December 16, 2009 through January 24, 2010 on all major networks. The commercials will air in English, Spanish and Polish.

Thanksgiving

Dear God,

In a world where much is available yet so many still go wanting, we thank you for all you have given us.
In a time when family life is often fragmented and chaotic, we thank you for the family we have with us today.

In a time when so many cannot express their faith, we thank you for our freedoms.

In a world that moves ever more quickly, we thank you for this time today to share a meal with loved ones, and to rest, reflect and refresh ourselves on this Thanksgiving Day.

Amen.
